

Hello everyone! Welcome to the LLEC! I'm Natalie, and I'm excited to meet you! I love cats, reading and outdoor adventures.

Language learning is an incredible adventure that opens doors to new worlds, cultures, and ways of thinking. Each step you take brings you closer to expressing not just words, but yourself, in beautiful and unique ways that you might not have imagined before. Remember, just like learning to ride a bike, it's all about progress, not perfection. Every "mistake" you make is actually a stepping stone to success!

One of my favourite quotes comes from a wise character, Yoda: "The greatest teacher, failure is." So, your "mistakes" in English are opportunities to make you better and more confident.

I'm glad to be your fellow traveller on this journey. Together, we'll learn from each experience and from each other, and discover the joy of mastering English.

I wish you happiness in this English adventure!
